

STORYTELLING

In brief

A useful application for sharing stories and narratives in the company, in a training and social communication context. Participants are asked to tell stories, real or made up, for example related to the application of a corporate value.

What is it?

The Storytelling app is specifically for sharing stories and narratives in the company, in a training and social communication context. Storytelling has been developed as a Web part for the Sharepoint intranet but it can also be adapted to the main e-learning environments.

What is it for?

- telling and publishing people's stories
- voting favourite stories posted by colleagues
- indicating favourite stories to other colleagues
- encouraging innovative training and active participation
