

APPILLS

In brief

Mobile version of Training Pills, suitable to use across devices: intranet, e-learning platforms, web TV, smart phones and tablets. Training anytime, anywhere to maintain continuity of the training experience and also have the possibility to train “unreachable” people (sales networks, managers...).

What is it?

The exclusive format of Amicucci Formazione’s Training Pills is also mobile. With Appills, usable from any device compatible with HTML5 (iOS, Android, WindowsPhone...), training becomes a pleasant and effective daily learning therapy, to guarantee speed, effectiveness and completeness, close to the needs of employees who have little time and are always on the move.

What is it for?

- guaranteeing practical, light and constant training, anytime, anywhere
- quick training of basic skills
- saving in terms of time and results
- being able to train those employees who are difficult to (such as sales networks, managers who are always travelling, technicians who operate in the area, operating staff)
